WAR MAY BREAK OUT NEAR PENDER, NEB

TROUBLE WITH THE INDIANS IS BECOMING SERIOUS.

Dispute Between the Government Agent And the Flourney Company Has Reached a Climax—Wholesale Murder Would Follow a Killing By the Indian Police—In North Dakota

Pender, Neb., April 30.—Sheriff Mullin openly declared yesterday if a single white settler was murdered by Indian police while resisting eviction before the courts settled the Winnebago reservation matter it meant annihilation of the Winnebagos. He said he had letters from hundreds of men all over Thurston county and even from other counties who volunteered their services to assist in wiping out every Indian on the reservation if a single white settler was killed. Sheriff Mullin added that if Capt. Beck persisted in forcing trouble before the courts settled the subject he would take a posse of sufficient numerical strength to invade the agency and he would arrest Capt. Beck. The sheriff expressed the belief that Capt. Beck would not dare attempt another movement with any hope of success unless by the aid of troops.

The refusal of Federal Judges Dundy and Riner at Lincoln to grant a mandatory injunction requiring the tenants of the Flournoy Live Stock and Real Estate Company to vacate the Indian lands they claim on the Winnebago reservation has brought the dispute to a climax. Agent Beck at once announced his intention of continuing evictions of those tenants who hold by virtue of leases effected with the Indians without the consent and sanction of the agent. This will doubtless lead to bloodshed, as the people of Thurston county are divided into factions over the trouble existing between the Indian agent and the Flournoy company, and feeling has been running high up there for some time.

Under holdings of the federal judges the order issued last March by Judge Sanborn of the northern district was continued in force until further orders of the court. This simply forbade the Flournoy company and those who hold upon similar leases from making any new leases. The ones now held by the Flournoy Company will expire January 1, 1896. It has been held by one of the federal courts that the sanction of the agent is necessary to the validity of a lease made by an Indian of his land. Under this ruling Agent Beck proposes to proceed with the evictions.

TROOPS NEEDED.

All the North Dakota Trouble Caused by Canadian Half-Breeds.

Devil's Lake, N. D., April 30.—After sifting information from all available sources here, there seems no doubt that the serious state of affairs at Turtle Mountain is mostly if not entirely caused by Canadian half-breeds. The pretext is Indian claims to a large tract of land in the Devil's Lake district of which the United States has assumed title but to which it is generally conceded the Indians had certain treaty rights.

American Indians and half-breeds seem satisfied to await the deliberations of the United States commissioners in settling the question, but the Canadian half-breeds, whose claim is denied and seems to be without equity, persist in asserting claim, disturbing settlers, exciting American half-breeds, committing timber depredations, and going even to the extent of burning houses, in their own district, creating shiftleness and disrespect of law. They use the pure bloods as cat's paws so as to give the affair the appearance of justice to the Indians. There can be no doubt as to the existence of the deplorable state of affairs and the necessity of prompt and vigorous action. Marshal Cronan intends to lay the matter before Judge Thomas and request an order for the use of the militia, as the circumstances clearly indicate a situation with which civil authority is unable to cope.

VOORHEES FOR FREE SILVER.

The Indiana Senator Gives His Views as to the White Metal.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 30.—Senator Voorhees submitted to a long interview yesterday, in which he flatly pronounced for free silver at the 16 to 1 ratio. He said the question had been agitated for years, and it was time the question was settled. The time has come, he said, when the labor-producing people of the country are to decide whether they will submit to be longer "bullied out of half of their debt-paying money."

Union Men Fight with Pick Handles.

Marquette, Mich., April 30.—The opening of navigation here yesterday was the signal for a fierce and decisive contest between the local ore trimmers and outsiders brought down from Ishpeming and Negaunee by the three men who say they have contracts with the Vessel Owners' association to trim boats here. The Pontiac arrived light for ore at 6:50 p. m. and twenty minutes later the riot was on. Sheriff Broad had sworn in ten of the newcomers and armed them with baseball bats. The union men loosened the handles of their picks. The crash of clubs upon skulls filled the air for a few minutes, and the imported men took to their heels and run. The Marquette Rifles have been permitted to leave the armory, a detail of eight men being kept on guard there, however.

Gold Output of Colorado.

Washington, April 30.—Earl B. Coe of Denver, who is here, thinks that Colorado's gold output this year will be not less than $20,000,000, while some place it as high as $30,000,000. Mr. Coe says it is the intention of mining men to erect a large auditorium capable of seating 15,000 people, with the hope that Denver may be able to secure one of the national political conventions

GENERALLY FOR SILVER.

Delegates to Illinois Democratic Convention Selected.

Jacksonville, Ill., April 30.—The Democrats of Morgan county met yesterday in convention to select delegates to the convention. The meeting was well attended. The delegates selected are W. H. Hinrichsen, G. D. Doying, William J. Wyatt, William P. Callon, Thomas Walsh, W. G. Roherer, Thos. Crouse, Oliver Coultas, Owen P. Thompson, Thomas S. Knoles, F. D. McAvoy, Charles A. Barnes, all of whom are free silver men and in full sympathy with the resolutions adopted, which are strongly in favor of silver.

Louisville, Ill., April 30.—The delegates chosen yesterday by the Clay county democracy to attend the monetary convention in Springfield, are all for free silver.

Elizabethtown, Ill., April 30.—The Democrats of Hardin county met in convention Saturday. The convention was in favor of the free coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1.

Greenville, Ill., April 30.—The Bond county central committee met yesterday and decided to call the county convention May 18. It is probable the county convention will be committed to free silver at the ratio of 16 to 1.

Princeton, Ill., April 30.—The Putnam county Democratic committee yesterday issued a call for the county convention to be held at Hennepin May 20. A majority of the committee is said to be opposed to free silver, but it is believed the county convention will favor it by a good majority.

DANGER NOT UNKNOWN.

Warning Concerning Condition of Epinal Reservoir Had Been Given.

Paris, April 30.—The Epinal reservoir, the bursting of which caused the destruction of over $10,000,000 worth of property and the loss of more than 100 lives, had a superficial area of 3,000,000 square feet. In 1884 a large fissure in the main dam developed. This was filled with cement and oak beams.

In 1885 the feed canal burst above Bouzey and carried away a length of sixty feet. Several houses were destroyed on this occasion, but no lives were lost. Some time before this an inspector of roads and bridges announced that the condition of the dam was dangerous and notified the people of Bouzey to watch for a possible disaster. In 1892 there was a second accident to the wall near Epinal. During two years the wall of the dam, which should have been straight, has shown a bulge to the extent of about three feet. The chief engineer of roads and bridges who directed the building of the dam, had great difficulty with his colleagues in order to carry out his plan of a straight dam instead of a curved one.

This shape of the dam is now given as the cause of the accident, but there is a possibility that the disaster was caused by the illness for fifteen days of the inspector who was charged with the supervision of the dam.

To Look Into the Case of Waller.

Paris, April 30.—United States Ambassador Eustis has received pointed and definite instructions from Washington regarding the case of ex-Cansul Waller, now imprisoned in France under a twenty years' sentence imposed by a court-martial on the ground that he was in communication with the Hovas. Mr. Eustis has verbally and in writing communicated his instructions to the French Minister of Foreign Affairs, M. Hanotaux, but the latter has not yet replied to these communications. The representations made by Mr. Eustis were extremely courteous and were intended to develop the French side of the case. The; report of United States Consul Wetter, who succeeded Mr. Waller at Tamatave, while substantially confirming the newspaper reports of the case, was not sufficient to satisfy the state department, which desires an accurate statement of all the facts before determining what its attitude shall be in this matter.

Strike Oil at Douglas, Wyo.

Douglas, Wyo., April 30.—A sand bearing oil has been discovered in a tunnel being driven at this place for irrigation purposes. The oil shows on the surface and can be seen floating on the water coming from a spring in one of the gulches. It has been prounounced equal to the Casper oil. Developments of the Douglas field will be begun at once.

Fierce Tribal Warfare on New Ireland.

Sydney, N. S. W., April 30.—Advices received here from New Ireland, a dependency of the German colony in Northern New Guinea, say several villages have been depopulated owing to the fierce tribal warfare which have been waged there. Women and children have been mercilessly butchered.

We May Take Similar Action.

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, April 30.—It is believed here the United States promised England non-interference in Nicaragua because it intends to take similar measures against, Honduras and Guatemala for the alleged murder of American citizens last spring.

HE KILLED HIS WIFE AND SHOT HIMSELF

BLOODY TRAGEDY AT BRAZIL, INDIANA, TODAY.

James Young, The Court House Janitor Commits Murder and Suicide—Insane Man Shot While Trying To Rob a Bank at Dubuque—Northwestern News.

Brazil, Ind., April 30—James Young, the janitor at the court house, killed his wife and then shot himself this morning.

Dubuque, Iowa, April 30.—A wild-eyed man entered the Iowa Trust and Savings bank at 11 o'clock yesterday morning and after peering through the teller's window began with a club smashing in the glass of the counter, behind which were gold, silver and currency. The only persons present were Cashier James Allison, nephew of the senator; Assistant Cashier Maurice Brown, and Clerks Nelson and Ris. It was believed an attempt was being made to raid the bank, and Mr. Brown promptly raised his gun and fired at the assailant, bringing him to the floor.

The shot was plainly heard for a block, and an immense crowd gathered. The patrol was called and the wounded man taken to the hospital, where it was said he would recover. His name is Leonard Suess. He was born and raised in Dubuque and is a graduate of the high school and the commercial college. He is believed to be of unsound mind. For some time past he has been engaged in peddling poultry and eggs. A day or two since he told his mother he was bound to have money in some way, no matter how he got it. After the shooting Suess said he was the victim of nervous prostration and had no desire to rob the bank. He only wanted to get into the hospital to be treated, and the only way to get there was to do something desperate.

MAY ARREST LUSCOMBE'S FATHER.

His Note Implicates Him in the Sanger Murder at Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 30.—Ex-City Attorney Robert Luscombe appeared before Judge Wallber yesterday to answer to a charge of killing Emil A. Sanger. Luscombe waived examination and was held to the present term of the criminal court. In the afternoon the coroner began the inquest on the death of Sanger. There is a possibility S. R. Luscombe will be arrested as an accessory to the crime because he sent the note which told his son to come to the house armed. The inquest will be continued to-day.

As a sequel to the tragedy the C. M. Sanger Sons Company, of which Emil A. Sanger was president, made an assignment yesterday to Oscar H. Pierce. The company has conducted a wholesale saddlery business at Nos. 311 and 313 East Water street. Mr. Goldsmith said the stock on hand was valued at about $36,000, and in his opinion the debts of the company would not exceed two-thirds of that amount.

FORT WAYNE MURDER.

Newman, Charged with Killing Mrs. Dugan, Protests His Innocence.

Fort Wayne, Ind., April 30.—William Newman, arrested Sunday in church at the funeral of Mrs. Savannah Dugan, charged with murdering the woman, declares he is innocent and can prove it. His preliminary hearing has been fixed for Saturday morning. Edwin Platter, who played cards with Mrs. Dugan two hours before she was found dead, is held as a witness. It is believed he knows more than he cares to tell about this mysterious crime. Maude Summers, aged 17, has been closely questioned by the officers. She says Mrs. Dugan, William Newman, Edwin Platter and herself had been playing cards until 9 o'clock the night of the murder and all had been drinking beer. The girl said Newman was somewhat intoxicated at 9 o'clock, when she and Platter left.

To Build a Big Dam in Michigan.

Benton Harbor, Mich., April 30.—Work will commence in May on one of the largest enterprises undertaken in this part of the state for fifteeen years. The plan is to build a dam one mile north of here which will give a fall of twenty feet over the 200 feet of main dam, there being 1,400 feet of dam aping the dam is the valuable power to be attained, which will be used for electric light, heat, and power purposes, also for furnishing power to manufactories that will be located near the dam. The company will capitalize in a few days under the state laws at $1,000,000, with $600,000 paid-up stock.

Shoots His Workman and Himself.

Woodstock, Ill., April 30.—W. W. Ellsworth, the China hog breeder, living four miles west of this city, in a fracas with his hired man, George Filweber, shot him dead and then killed himself. The pair had frequently quarreled. The only witnesses of Ellsworth's deed were two little boys who were on their way home from school. Ellsworth leaves a widow and three sons.

Strike Is Probable To-Morrow.

Bloomington, Ill., April 30.—There is a strong probability that the miners of the McLean County Coal company of this city will go on strike May 1. Yesterday the scale committee of the miners' union presented to the company for ratification an agreement, as follows: Third vein, 60 cents per ton; second vein, 50 cents; drivers, tracklayers, etc., $2. Miners to be given coal for personal use at $1.75 and only union men to be employed. Supt. Graham peremptorily dismissed the committee presenting the scale and said the affairs of the mine would henceforth be conducted from the office and that no consideration would be shown demands for a change in wages or other matters pertaining to the mine.

WILL SHED NO BLOOD BUT FIX THINGS UP

NICARAGUAN ROW WILL SOON BE SETTLED.

The Governments At Washington, London and Managua Are Considering the Terms of Peace As a Compromise—Zelaya Will Probably Submit—The Cable News.

Managua, Nicaragua, April 30.—A proposition of compromise and immediate evacuation of Corinto by the British is now under consideration between Washington, London, and the authorities here. The proposition embraces the following essential points:

First—Nicaragua is to pay $77,500 at London within two weeks.

Second—The British forces are to be immediately withdrawn from Corinto without waiting for the two weeks to elapse.

Third—A mixed commission of arbitration is to pass on the demands of England in excess of the $77,500 claim, such commission to be constituted in a manner satisfactory to the United States and Nicaragua.

The foregoing terms, it is believed, will be accepted by President Zelaya and his cabinet. It is understood the suggestion of settlement came from the Nicaragua representative at Washington, and it is believed such an adjustment would be agreeable to the United States authorities. If Nicaragua's acceptance is given the proposition will be urged on the London foreign office, and it is believed it will be accepted.

Among the Nicaraguan troops and populace the greatest excitement prevails and the feeling against Great Britain is increasing in bitterness every hour. The British consulate in this city remains under guard in view of the rioting and stone-throwing which have already occurred and in anticipation of further trouble. In spite of reports to the contrary the people of Nicaragua uphold the government and indorse the stand which it has taken against Great Britain, and although Nicaragua may eventually be compelled to pay the indemnity demanded it is believed the trade of Great Britain with Nicaragua and other Central American republics will suffer in consequence of the British fleet at Corinto. British Minister Gosling denies Britain wants to possess any part of Nicaragua. The press here argues the taking of Corn Island by England would be a direct violation of the Bulwer-Clayton treaty. A riotous disposition is beginning to be displayed. At San Juan del Sur the natives are collecting in mobs and threaten an uprising if the English land.

ZELAYA WILL DOUBTLESS SUBMIT.

Indications the Complications Will Soon Be at an End.

Paso de Caballos, Nicaragua, April 30.—An officer of the British fleet said yesterday there is every reason to believe Nicaragua will accede to England's demand before the expiration of the fortnight's grace said to have been asked for by United States Ambassador Bayard in London.

Washington, April 30.—So far as the Washington, May 1.—So far as the rumors of arbitration are concerned the state department was not advised up to the close of office hours and did not credit the story, but that it expects a settlement of the trouble between Great Britain and Nicaragua in a short time is evidenced by the fact it still expresses confidence in the payment of the indemnity.

Great Britain Is Inconsistent.

Berlin, April 30.—The North German Gezette defends the policy of Germany in the Far East and accuses Great Britain of inconsistency in having, at the beginning of the war, supported China, while Germany throughout counseled Japan to act with moderation. The fact that Germany finds itself in harmony with France and Russia, the North German Gazette adds, is a matter of congratulation as a step in the honorable and open policy of peace which it pursues in Europe.

Is an American Enterprise.

London, April 30.—The Daily News, in an editorial on the Nicaraguan affair, says: "The Nicaraguan canal was and is essentially an American enterprise. It is proper to bear this in mind in all our proceedings and to spare no pains to convince the American people, as we have already convinced their government, that we covet the canal no more than we covet Nicaragua."

Will Take Care of British Trade.

London, April 30.—The parliamentary secretary of the foreign office, Sir Edward Grey, in the house of commons, in announcing the occupation of Corinto by the British forces, added he must request time to answer the question whether the government would refer the whole question to arbitration. Care would be taken that the British trade was in no way hampered.

Russia Ready for Trouble.

London, April 30.—A dispatch to the Times from St. Petersburg says the military and naval officials are making every preparation for mobilinzing the forces in case necessity should arise. Arrangements are also being made for the transportation of the forces.

Bad Fire at Rockford.

Rockford, Ill., April 30.—Half of the extensive plant of the Forest City Furniture company, the largest industry in the city, was destroyed by fire yesterday. Only the efforts of the department saved the rest of the plant and many buildings in that section from destruction. One man was probably fatally injured by jumping, while others were badly bruised, the flames spreading so rapidly that they had barely time to escape. The loss will exceed $50,000, while $120,000 insurance is carried on the whole plant.

WANT CONVICTS TO BUILD IT.

Resolution in Illinois House for a Ship Canal to the Mississippi.

Springfield, Ill., April 30.—The house convened at 5 o'clock last evening, with forty members present. Mr. Hallock, by unanimous consent, introduced the following resolution, which was referred to the committee on penal and reformatory institutions: "Resolved, That it is the sense of this thirty-ninth general assembly that the state of Illinois should proceed to complete a waterway or ship canal (by the use of the labor of all able-bodied convicts) from Lockport to La Salle." On motion of Mr. Callahan his bill providing for the speedy trial of election contests was made a special order for this morning. Mr. Snedeker.s bill to provide for the creation of free employment bureaus was made a special order for this morning.

Mr. Cody introduced a bill to prevent any fire insurance company from doing business in this state under any other than its own corporate name, or from issuing joint policies. The following bills were advanced to third reading. Lowenthal's bill in relation to the selection of the judges of the superior court of Cook county; Needles' bill to legalize the proceedings of two terms of the Clay county circuit; Dudley's bill limiting to two years the time which a boy may be kept in a training school; Shanahan's bill amending the cilvil service act; Selby's bill giving coal miners a lien upon the property of the owner for wages earned.

In the senate only half a dozen members were present. Mr. Hunt introduced a bill similar to the measure pending in the house revising the law governing the state board of live stock commissioners. Under the existing statute the board has experienced difficulty in enforcing quarantines and seizing condemned cattle for destruction. Mr. Hunt's bill is designed to correct this by giving the commissioner police power to enforce either rule. It also fully defines all the known diseases the presence of which warrants the establishment of a quarantine. Senator Barnes offered a resolution calling for the appointment of five senators for the purpose of investigating the so-called school book trust and school furniture trust doing business in Chicago. A similar resolution was offered at the two previous sessions of the legislature.

WARSHIPS ON GUARD.

Three Vessels Ordered to Proceed to Ports in Nicaragua.

Washington, April 30.—Some sudden and unexpected orders issued to United States naval vessels late yesterday caused a sensation for a time until the import of the order was explained. The Alert, which has been stationed for a month or more at Panama watching theprogress of the revolutionary movement in Colombia, was ordered to proceed at once to San Juan del Sur, the nearest cable port to Corinto, Nicaragua. The Raleigh, now on her way from Kingston, Jamaica, to Key West and expected to arrive at the latter place any moment, will find awaiting her orders to go at once to Greytown, the eastern terminus of theproposed Nicaragua canal. The Montgomery, now at Mobile, will follow the Atlanta May 7 with the Nicaraguan canal commission aboard. The Monterey will also be there. She is not expected to touch at Corinto, and as she is now beyond the reach of orders by wire she will probably be allowed to relieve the Alert at Panama, whence she can be ordered back to Nicaragua if trouble arises in the future.

Secretary Herbert says the movements of the ships have absolutely nothing to do with the present occupation of Corinto by the British, that being a matter to be settled between the Nicaraguans and the British. The real purpose of the orders was to guard American interests in Nicaragua against the consequences of a possible revolution which may result from the disturbed condition of the country.

TAKE SPANIARDS BY SURPRISE.

Battle Near Las Jaguas Was Won by Negro Insurgents.

Santiago, Cuba, April 23, via Key West, Fla., April 30.—The first really important skirmish of the present insurrection in Cuba was that which took place Sunday at Ramon de las Jaguas. The insurgents were all black, many of them employed at the mines. They numbered about five hundred. A Spanish detachment of 200 soldiers was sent to the mines and camped at Juruguaita. Finding all quiet the commander left fifty soldiers under Lieut. Benjamin Gallego, and with the rest started with a guide for Ramon de las Jaguas. Near the latter place the troops were attacked from ambush. A number of Spaniards were killed or wounded.

Friends of Civil Service Indignant.

St. Paul, Minn., April 30.—The friends of civil service reform in the state are indignant at the action of Gov. Clough in refusing to sign the bill placing the force in the state grain inspection department under civil service rules. They say there could be no good excuse for such action, as this is one of the departments where such a law is especially needed. The reason given by the governor for his refusal to sign the bill was that it discriminated between departments, no other department being placed under these rules.

Durant Has a Complaint.

San Francisco, April 30.—Theodore Durant was arraigned yesterday in the police court on a charge of murder for the killing of Blanche Lamont. The defendant complains that every fact connected with the murders is made to fit his case, while suspicious circumstances regarding others are disregarded. The coroner's inquest in the case will be continued tonight until concluded, so as not to interfere with the preliminary examination of Durant for the Williams' murder, to be tried tomorrow.

Money Up for the Big Fight.

New York, April 30.—Joe Vendig, manager of the Florida Athletic club, has put up $5,000 to guarantee the club's ability to handle the fight between Corbett and Fitzsimmons.

DR. DIXON'S BODY FOUND IN THE WOOD

EAGLE RIVER MYSTERY IS NOW CLEARED UP.

Remains of the Man Who Disappeared Last Winter Finally Discovered And Supposedly He Died of Exposure—Old Chase House At Kenosha Burned—Watchman Drowned.

INSURGENTS DEFEATED.

Great Victory for Spanish Troops Reported from Havana.

Havana, April 30.—General Salcedo, commander of the Spanish troops operating against General Maceo, the insurgent leader, has won a great victory. He attacked Maceo's forces at Parra Huco. After a severe engagement, during which the Spanish soldiers fought bravely, the forces of the government were victorious, completely routing the insurgents, who lost many killed and wounded. The survivors of Maceo's command were dispersed and have sought refuge in the mountains. The insurgent band commanded by General Garzo has also been completely defeated with great loss in killed, wounded and prisoners. Nearly all the survivors of this band surrendered themselves prisoners to the Spanish authorities.

Fear He Will Be Lynched.

London, April 29.—The steamship Tartar Prince, from Buenos Ayres, having on board Jabez Balfour, the exmember of parliament and wrecker of the Liberator Building Society and a number of kindred organizations, is expected to arrive at Southampton within the next three days. The police have taken extraordinary precautions to surround with secrecy the trip from Southampton to London, there being little doubt that an attempt would be made to lynch the prisoner if the time of his arrival in London were made public. There will be no delay in putting him on trial, and the probabilities are that within a month the ex-mayor of Croydon and ex-legislator, who, less than five years ago, was regarded as a rising statesman, will have donned the stripes and started to serve a long term of penal servitude.

Miners Only to Suspend Work.

Massillon, Ohio, April 30.—Investigation shows that there is not the slightest foundation for the report that a big miners' strike would take place in this district on May 1. The miners will suspend work on the date mentioned pending the adjustment of the scale, as is customary. This is done annually, however, and will undoubtedly be settled without difficulty.

Ends the Fighting in India.

Simla, April 30.—Sher Afzul, who, after the murder of his nephew, the mehtar of Chitral, usurped the throne and besieged Dr. Robertson, the British agent, in the Chitral fort, was captured Saturday, together with his brothers and 300 of his followers. They are now in prison. The khan of Dir assisted in the capture. It is expected that more of the enemy will be captured.

The Mikado Has a Chill.

Yokohama, April 30.—The mikado is suffering from a chill. The date of the departure of Count Ito, the president of the Japanese council of ministers, for Che Foo, in order to ratify the treaty of peace arrived at between China and Japan, has not yet beeen determined Japan, has not yet been determined

Devastated by Army Worms.

Danville, Ky., April 30.—Millions of army worms have appeared on one or two farms in this county, devastating all vegetation. This is the third visitation in forty-five years. It is the same worm that is now playing havoc in southern Kentucky and Tennessee.

Hall Wrecked by Gas Explosion.

Elyria, O., April 30.—G. A. R. hall was almost demolished yesterday by a gas explosion. A gas jet was left open last night and filled the place with gas. When Janitor Martin Fider struck a match in the hall this morning a heavy explosion followed. Fider was terribly burned and is in a serious condition.

Cashier Holland Surrenders.

Charlotte, N. C., April 30.—James R. Holland, cashier of the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank, who fled last Tuesday night, has surrendered to the officers. It is thought he had been hiding in his own house.

More Earthquakes Near Laibach.

Laibach, April 30.—Another severe earthquake was felt here last evening. The earth movement was preceded by a violent rumbling. Later in the night there were two comparatively light shocks. The renewal of the disturbances caused great alarm among the people, who fear a repetition of the disastrous shocks of a few days ago, when 98 per cent of all the houses in the city were damaged.

130 PUPILS ATTEND THE STATE SCHOOL

RAPID GROWTH OF THE INSTITUTE FOR THE BLIND,

Biennial Report of the State Board of Control Gives Some Instructing Facts Regarding the Institution—Room and Exercise Ground Needed—The Courses of Study.

The biennial report of the state board of control has just been issued and gives some interesting facts in regard to the State School for the Blind. During the year 1894 the total enrollment of scholars was 130. Of these, three graduated, one was honorably dismissed and twenty-six were dropped. When the school was started in 1849 it had but six pupils and each year has shown an increase until last year the attendance was 130 as above stated.

The pupils come from every county in the state and among them are six pupils from Janesville they being Roy Carter, Frank Hayner Jessie Foster, Sarah McGee, Margaret McGrath and Carrie M. Palmer. Four others from Rock county are also pupils, they being Arthur Whitney of Edgerton, Charles Wutstrock of Footville, Elizabeth Emerson of Hanover and Minnie O'Connor of Edgerton. The net expenses of the year was $27,049.25. Milwaukee county leads in the number of pupils with twenty-three, while Rock comes next with ten, and several counties have but one pupil each. Sixty-five of the pupils enrolled are girls and sixty-five are boys.

Superintendent Pease's Report.

Superintendent Pease in his report says that the general health of the school was remarkably good. The increase in attendance he attributes to the work of the school becoming better known through the kindness of the newspapers and postmasters and others who could spread the word broad cast. He tells of the changes in the teaching force and continuing outlines the work in the literary department, the literary course now embracing a good common school course. followed by four years' English and general science high school course. The text book list, he says, is far from complete. The musical department is now complete enough so that several pupils contemplate teaching music as a business. The industrial department teaches rag carpet and rug weaving, broom making, hammock making, chair caning, mattress making, etc., and feather duster making will be introduced. Girls are taught to cook, make dresses, etc. In closing his report Mr. Pease called attention to the needs of the school in the way of exercise and play grounds, additional school rooms, repairs on the building, etc.

The staff, and teachers are as follows:

The Teachers and Staff.

Lynn S. Pease, A. B. L. L. B., superintendent and steward.
Miss Lizzie Curtiss, matron.
M. C. Clark, treasurer.

The teachers in the literary department are: Misses S. A. Watson, L. M. Mosher, F. H. Benson, E. A. Brown, E. M. Burton and Miss Emma Pease.

In the musical department the instructorf are: Mrs. J. H. Jones, Miss J. M. Beckwith and Mrs. L. D. Engleson.

In the industrial department the teachers are:

Miss Parks, teacher of girls' sewing, dressmaking, etc.
Miss C. A. Williams, cooking.
Mrs. Ellen Hanson, weaving.
M. H. Gaebler, piano tuning.
J. O. Preston, boys' handicraft.

The report is a document of 269 pages, giving short reports from each of the public institutions, besides general remarks by the board. The principal recommendations are stale now, as the legislature has adjourned and the old board also passed out of existence. A home for the feeble-minded was recommended and the idea adopted by the legislature; but suggestions for an intermediate prison and for taking the Industrial School for Girls and the Milwaukee Hospital for the Chornic insane under state control were not heeded.

Other Recommendations.

A recommendation is also made for enlarging the state's prison or erecting a new one, as the present building is over crowded. The board has added a tailor shop and a knitting factory to the institution, and thinks the industries ought to be still further diversified.

With regard to the Waupaca home the report says that the trustees tried to do too much with the original appropriation, and as a consequence the buildings are not weather proof, "as in nearly every one of them the water has beaten through the roofs or about the windows, greatly marring the appearance of the ceilings and walls."

An appropriation was asked for a manual training school in connection with the industrial school at Waukesha, so that it may be possible to teach the boys some trade.

There are in Wisconsin seven state institutions, twenty-two county asylums, four semi-state institutions, forty-nine poor houses, sixty-eight jails, 198 police stations and fifty private and benevolent institutions under the control or supervision of the board.

Miss Emma Thursby was assisted by Miss Ollie Torbett, whose violin playing constituted some of the finest work of the evening. Tomorrow May 1, is the time one generally commences to have ice left at the house. A great saving in ice can be made by having a good ice box; and the fact of a first class ice box will keep your victuals nice. The Alaska is a refrigerator that saves both ice and victuals, costs no more than an inferior box. A. H. Sheldon & Co.

Selling shoes these days is as easy as falling off a log. We own the goods so powerful cheap that we really have no competition. The Henney Buggy Co., who ar conservative in their estimates, gave specifications for 8,000 vehicles in 1895. FALL CAUSED MR. DEWEY'S DEATH

Aged Man Did Not Survive the Injuries Received—Sketch of His Life.

Martin Dewey died at his home, 253 North Bluff street, at 9:15 o'clock last night, in the eighty-third year of his age. His death was the result of the fall down the cellar stairs at his home last Thursday evening. Mr. Dewey had been down town during the afternoon, and, on returning home, went into the cellar to get some stove wood. Nearing the top of the stairs with his armful of wood, he fell backwards to the bottom, sustaining internal injuries, and although no bones were broken, he remained in a stupor until death relieved him from his sufferings.

Mr. Dewey was an old resident of Janesville, coming here in an early day. He was a kind hearted man, and never tired in doing good for others. He was ever watchful in caring for the sick, and many will kindly remember him for his work in the sick room. At one time he was an active worker in a number of secret societies, especially the Odd Fellows. When the war broke out, Mr. Dewey went to the front, returning at the close of the conflict completely broken down in health, since which time he has been unable to do manual labor. He was eighty-two years old on the fourteenth of last December, and leaves an aged wife; one son, Frank M. Dewey of this city; and two daughters, Mrs. Elmore Hull of Fort Atkinson, and Mrs. Charles Mansfield of Rockford, Ill. Alfred Dewey of this city is a brother of the deceased. All were by his bedside when he breathed his last. The funeral will be held from the home, 253 North Bluff street, at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

COURT FILLED WITH "ANGELS"

The Schweinfurth Outfit Are Before Judge Shaw at Rockford.

George Jacob Schweinfurth and all of the "angels" from "heaven" male and female, and including Mrs. Teft Weldon, were before Judge Shaw in the circuit court at Rockford yesterday afternoon, the room also being well filled with curious spectators. Ex-Congressman William Lathrop, one of the most prominent lawyers in Rockford, and City Attorney Robert K. Welsh have been retained by Schweinfurth and were in court. Half an hour was occupied in legal repartee between the state's attorney and counsel for defendants over pleadings to the indictments, and finally they were allowed until Wednesday to enter them. The court ordered the defendants to give new bail bonds, and Spenser S. Weldon and his sons William and Lincoln signed them. They were compelled to make a schedule of their property, showing that they owned 536 acres of land, on which the "heaven" is located, valued at $30,150, besides $8,000 worth of personal property. There is a first mortgage on the property of $12,000. The case will probably come to trial next week, and will be bitterly fought on both sides.

B. H. Bowman: Pub. Enquirer; of Bremen, Ind., writes: Last week our little baby girl, the only one we have, was taken sick with croup; After two doctors failed to give relief and life was hanging on a mere thread we tried One Minute Cough Cure and its life was saved. C. D. Stevens.

LOCAL MEN FOOLED THE GAME WARDEN

JANESVILLE FISHERMEN ESCAPE AT INDIAN FORD.

Samuel Hallet, the Minon of the Law Was Hidden In the Basement of Mill and Arrested Them For Taking a Pickerel—Got Away By Running Their Horse.

People who reside in the vicinity of Indian Ford have been stirred up of late over an affair which three sportsmen, two Janesville men, and one Evansville merchant escaped from the clutches of the law. One bright morning last week two Janesvillians started for Indian Ford, where they had planned to meet their Evansville friend. In the meantime Game Warden Samuel Hallett had heard of their coming, and as the party pulled into the village, Hallett seceeted himself in the basement of a flour mill. After the Janesville men had stabled their horse, they began to fish. The first and only one they caught was an eight-pound pickerel. Then Hallett made his appearance.

"Gentlemen, in the name of the law I arrest you," exclaimed the game warden, and at the same time taking hold of the Evansville man, marched him towards the village store. In the meantime the Janesville men had made good their escape, and hastened to hitch their horse. Just then Hallett and his man drove over the Indian Ford bridge, bound for Edgerton. They had just crossed the bridge when the prisoner leaped from the buggy and ran to the chariot of his two companions. Then the horse was whipped towards Janesville, and the game warden is still wondering who those Janesville men are.

STREETS MUST BE SPRINKLED.

New Law Compels It When a Majority Petition It Signed.

Any street within the city limits can be sprinkled if the owners of the property fronting on the street will pay the expense. Last Thursday the law was published which put it in force. The law provides that if the owners of a majority of the frontage upon any street "shall petition that the street be sprinkled, the city must do so and the expense to be divided among all the property owners in proportion to their frontage." The provision applies to any part of a street as well as its entire length.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1524—Chevalier Bayard, last of the knights errant, died in Italy; born 1475. Bayard came honestly by his martial disposition, three of his immediate ancestors having been killed in battle and his father many times wounded in the wars of his king. He entered the service at 18, and in his first battle captured a stand of colors. Numerous deeds of personal valor and of knightly gallantry in which he figured as a hero appear in the chronicles of his times. He died in battle, and when he fell the cause was lost.

1623—Francis Xavier de Lavalle Montmorenci, first Canadian Roman Catholic bishop, born in Lavalle, France; died 1708.

1789—George Washington inaugurated first president at New York.

1854—James Montgomery, British poet, died; born 1772.

1894—Frank Hatton, editor Washington Post, died in Washington; born 1846.

THE TWO EVILS.

The country is cursed with two evils as the result of democratic ascendency, the first and most disastrous, free trade, the second, free silver agitation.

The latter is the very natural outgrowth of the former, the free trade of tariff reform heresy that culminated in the Wilson bill, after a ten months' struggle in congress, prepared the way for an unprecedented era of national disaster and misfortune.

Avenues of business and channels of industry, long established, were closed and abandoned, fortunes were wrecked and a vast army of industrious toilers were deprived of the means of an honest livelihood. In this condition of idleness and want the country was ripe for any sort of heresy, and the free silver craze, under the skillful manipulation of designing leaders, rapidly developed, as the unfailing panacea for all the ills of American life. Socialism, Coxeyism, populism and anarchy swelled the chorus "more money" until the nation became impregnated with the notion, that the free and unlimited coinage of silver would feed the hungry, clothe the naked, repair shattered fortunes and support in ease and idleness the great mass of unemployed humanity. That such a theory should become popular, under such conditions is very natural. Like the drowning man every straw of comfort that promises relief, was eagerly grasped in the vain hope that somehow, in some undefinable way, prosperity and plenty would be restored. Just how these great blessings would be brought about by free coinage is a mystery that no one has attempted to explain. Labor of some kind, the only equivalent for money of any kind, does not seem to merit consideration. Only give us free silver with an emphasis on the "free" and democracy will be responsible for the result. Open up the silver mines of the west, authorize the government to borrow gold enough of Jew bankers across the water to buy the bullion produced, make it up in 412 grain doses and stamp it a dollar; insult the author of honesty with the title "In God we trust" buy a vacant lot in Washington and cover it with safety vaults, and some fine morning the whole country will wake up with plenty of money, and every want supplied. The most damnable heresy that ever cursed an intelligent nation. If every country bank in the land, and every cross roads postoffice, each had a million silver dollars on deposit there wouldn't be any more money in circulation than there is today, unless the depositories were robbed, and the bandits spent a few dollars in getting over into Canada.

The trouble with the country is not a scarity of money. It is simply lack of employment of both labor and capital. In 1891-92 when times were prosperous nothing was said about a shortage of money. There is just as much money in the country today as there was then; the trouble is, it is not in circulation, because it is not in demand. Manufacturing industries that paid it out so freely, if operating at all, are running light, with pay rolls averaging less than half what they did two two years ago. All avenues of business that were money distributers when times were good, show retrenchment and shrinkage. Underlying this demoralization and these unhealthy conditions, is the one prime evil, for which democratic stupidity is responsible, and that is the free trade heresy, inaugurated two years ago. It was a blow at American industries that will be felt for years to come, an evil that can not be remedied before 1897, and that will result in flooding the American markets with the product of half-starved foreign labor and blotting out, as it has already done, American industries.

Tariff reform from a democratic standpoint, and not a scarcity of silver or any other kind of money, is the plague spot that is blighting and cursing the nation today.

The United Kingdom held its thirty-fifth annual session of the association of chambers of commerce, in March last. The president congratulated the meeting on the success of American free trade. He stated that the value of foreign imports had increased in two months from 300 to 600 per cent. Mr. Bayard was present and turning to him said he "I cannot help congratulating our friend Mr. Bayard, and asking him to congratulate the great man whom he represents here in his dealings with that tariff question." Mr Bayard had sense enough to keep still, Professor Wilson was not present.

The republican party of Wisconsin is making a mistake in not selecting a chairman for the State Central committee. This year of all others when party organization is important in the interests of a safe currency, the chairmanship should not be neglected. There are plenty of good men in the state who would honor the position, and whose wise counsel would be of benefit to the party.

Louisiana is having a practical illustration of free trade. A sugar plantation of 1200 acres with a refinery containing machinery that cost $100,000, was recently sold by the sheriff for $15,000. Another of 2000 acres fully equipped, went under the hammer for $5,500. Louisiana may join the doubtful column, on account of too much democracy.

Farmers will find comfort in the fact that Canada will furuish this country from eight to ten million dollars' worth more cereals this year than last. Free trade is a good thing—for Canada.

Under the Wilson bill 6,200,000 pounds more woolen cloths have been imported during the past six months than during the six months previous. American labor will make a note of it.

During the month of February, our export trade fell off nearly $4,000,000—a short month at that. The markets of the world are theoretically fine.

The increase in woolen dress goods imports from November 1, 1894, to April 1, 1895, is 750,000 yards. England is correspondingly happy.

France produced last year over one billion gallons of wine, worth at a low price $200,000,000.

THE TOWN TALK OF A DAY.

Don't forget the Union May party to be given by the Brotherdood of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen on May 1, in the Light Infantry Armory. Free carriages will be furnished to those wishing supper, which will be served at McDonald's opera house restaurant.

"The apparel oft prociaims the man," said the poet Shakespeare. How true that is, and what do you suppose that people think of you when you go about looking just as shabby as you can with those old shoes on? Don't you know that a dollar or two invested at Becker & Woodruff's will proclaim you a different man? A fine shoe from their Fond du Lac stock at 60 cents on the dollar, is a passport to gentility.

The worth of men, as of garments, should not be measured by their occasional attainments, but by their everyday qualities, we are showing furnishing goods lower than any price ever mentioned in the city. See large ad. Goodman.

We don't blame the people for coming from far and near to get a pair of shoes from our Fond du Lac stock. Never before have such offerings been made, but we brought $12,000 worth of it here and added $18,000 from our stock. $30,000 in all and save you 40 cents on the dollar. Becker & Woodruff.

Whenever you throw $30,000 worth of the best makes of shoes on the market as we have done at 60 cents on the dollar you are sure to be busy. We have not had time to eat since our Fond du Lac stock arrived so anxious are the people to get a pair of those shoes, Becker & Woodruff.

Four ply linen collars only 9 cents each; elegant $2.50 and $3 pants $1; full suits $4. Goodman, 15 West Milwaukee street.

Did you see our gents' tan shoes? latest style lasts, lace or button, all shades. Come in gents, we will use you right. Lloyd & Son.

Remember those ladies $2 50 and $3 shoes this week go at $2 a pair. Come in and ask for them. Lloyd & Son.

Guess the people will come here where they know they will get a shoe that will fit them, and save forty cents on every dollar. Becker & Woodruff.

Low prices coupled with the best shoes on earth is what brings us the business. Becker & Woodruff.

After tomorrow night we will give the working people a chance every evening except Tuesday and Friday nights to get our bargains in our dollar shoes. We are recognized as the bargain shoe store, and we intend to maintain that well earned reputation Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

The Meaning Of It.

We are pushing sales at your own price on anything we own, simply to reduce our indebtedness. Price cuts no figure. We owe some more than we care to owe and we have loads of property, so we are holding a liquidation sale, and you who do business with us now reap the benefit.

If you want a home or a homesite, if you want to buy on speculation, our office is the place, and you will make a mistake if you invest a shilling elsewhere

One of our customers said to us yesterday: "The little fellows have been after me thicker than flies, but you showed me more bargains in an hour than they all put together have shown after days of time spent." We own most of our property and make prices no one else can touch. Remember we are not after profit now. We want customers and sales.

Yours very truly.

BAD NEGRO STOLE T. DUMPHY'S CASH.

CHIEF ACHESON HAD AN EXCITING CHASE TODAY.

Colored Man Applied For Work at Dumphy's Home and When He Left $50 Went Too—Negro Succeeded In Boarding a Train But Will Be Caught.

CHIEF ACHESON and M. Dawson had an exciting chase after a negro who was charged with stealing fifty dollars late this afterhoon and at 4 o'clock they found that he had boarded a passing freight train and escaped. Dumphy, who lives four miles from town, arrived in the city at 3:45 o'clock this afternoon and reported that the negro had applied for work at his place and had stolen $50 from the house. He said that the colored gentleman had taken to the railroad track and that he had not had more than time to reach Janesville. Chief Acheson telegraphed all the towns along the railroad to arrest the negro, and he will probably be caught.

DID you ever figure out how much you'll save on a pair of shoes such as Banister's, Strong & Carroll, Nettleton's, etc, by getting a reduction of forty cents on every dollar? If not, come and we'll help you. It will pay you for coming in. Becker & Woodruff.

THERE are but three of those pictures at Prentice & Evenson's They are truly works of art and will not stay there long. The prices are $650, $750 and $900, seems like an enormous sum, but cheap when the work is examined. Be sure and see them.

FRANK CULLEN and bride, who were married a few days ago in Fond du Lac, arrived in this city yesterday, and made a short visit at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Cullen, Racine street, leaving for their new home in Dundee. Ill., this noon.

NOT a pair of old shoes in the entire North stock; nothing but new, up-to-date goods. No wonder the trade is paralized, at the prices we are selling it at. You can't afford to take any chances when such a stock of shoes is crowded on the market at half the regular price. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

PEOPLE appreciate good shoes as is shown from the way we are crowded daily. Such good values as we brought from Fond du Lac, and our own stock combined, never before were offered to a public. We have plenty. 60 cents on the dollar goes. Becker & Woodruff.

FLOUR is still going up and those who do not take advantage of the prices we are now making will have to pay more. Better lay in a supply. 80, 90 cents and $1 still holds good here. 40 cents a barrel more at the mills. Dunn Bros.

ARE THE PRICES CUT IN TAILOR SHOPS?

A ROW AMONG THE LOCAL CLOTHING MAKERS.

Other Firms Allege that W. P. Bolles Is Not Paying Union Wages and the Matter Is Referred to the Union and Given to a Committee—Mr. Middleton's Story.

Local tailors are wrestling with a knotty problem just now. The allegation is, that the workmen in W.F. Bolles' shop are not being paid union prices, thereby enabling Bolles to do work much cheaper than the other firms. It is charged that Mr. Bolles has been in the habit for some time of giving out his work to the journeymen with a statement that the garment must be made for such and such prices, the same being marked out from the regular established scale of the union; accompanying this request with the statement that the suit had been taken below the regular prices, and that the tailors ought so stand a part of the reduction in order to obtain the work. When the other firms heard of this they brought the matter to the attention of the union, and a special meeting of the union was held at Central labor hall last evening, and another meeting was held at the same place this morning at 9 o'clock, the session continuing until noon, and all, or nearly all, the journeymen tailors in the city attending. The men are very reticent as to what transpired in the meeting, but it is known that the special business was to consider what steps should be taken in regard to the matter, as the other firms insisted either that the union maintains the regular wage scale or submit to the same cut all around.

"The union has a card, with a scale of prices for every garment made," said a merchant tailor this morning. "Now we have all been paying these prices, as by adhering to this scale of prices we know just what we can make a certain suit for and compete with the trade. But when one firm can get such an advantage as a reduction in the price paid to the journeymen tailors, it places the other firms at a great disadvantage. We prefer to live up to the union rules, as it places all on the same footing."

It is said that the matter was finally referred to a committee who called on the firms in question but did not receive any satisfaction. What the next step will be is not known.

Mr. Middleton, manager for Mr. Bolles, says he has no interest in the controversy; that his men are earning good wages and are perfectly satisfied. He says that he paid his pants maker $38 last week and his best coat maker $34. He also says that the scale of prices adopted in 1889 is variously construed, but that when men earn from $25 to $30 a week that they are satisfied with the construction.

RUNAWAY TEAM DROWN AT BELOIT

Plunged Onto The Apron Of The Dam And Into Deep Water.

A runaway team was drowned in the river at Beloit yesterday, they plunged in the stream and went to the bottom. People who were near by saw the team dash in front of the paper mill, jump onto the apron of the dam, slip along to the plank and disappear into the deep water below the dam, dragging down with them the heavy wagon to which they were attached. The spectacle was over so quickly that it seemed like a vision and had it not been that Roy Kenyon the young man who was driving the team, lay near the edge of the embankment mixed up in a plow that was on the wagon and some broken timbers on the dam there would have been positively no evidence to show that an accident had happened. Even the planks of the "dump board" wagon box were kept under water. The team was the property of A. J. VanDoran, and the driver was his nephew who, had borrowed the team. VanDoran valued the horses at $200.

TOO MUCH WATER FOR WHEELMEN

Bicycle Riders Ask That Less Sprinkling Be Done on the Streets.

Janesville wheelmen are complainingly bitterly on account of the street sprinklers putting so much water on the streets, especially on the pavements. They say that in many places the streets are transformed into mud-lakes, making it disagreeable for wheelmen. With the pavement or roadways soaking wet, they claim, the pneumatic wheels are difficult to manage, as the least movement to place the wheel out of a perpendicular position, is certain to throw the rider. The wheelmen, therefore, politely request the street sprinklers to be a little more sparing of the water, and give the riders a chance to use the streets.

TWO MOTORMEN IN A WRANGLE

Fists and Much English Language Used Near the Depots.

An exhibition of the manly art was given by two local employes of the street railway company, on the switch in front of the Railroad Hotel. When the Forest Park and the Milton Avenue cars met at the switch the motorman on the Forest Park car wanted to change places with the Milton Avenue man, but the Milton Avenue man couldn't see it that way. After the question had been argued for ten minutes things began to look serious and it was 'blow for blow.' Things began to get warm and one of the boys struck at the other fellow with the power lever, but after seesawing back and forth the matter was finally reported to Superintendent Proudfoot and is now being aired in his private office.

HIGH BRIDGE SAGS A LITTLE.

C. & N. W. Crew Are at Work at the Three Mile Creek.

The new three mile railroad bridge on the Evansville branch of the Northwestern road, is beginning to show slight signs of weakening, and the railroad officials are investigating the matter. The bridge has been showing signs of sagging, it being built on forty-five foot pillars, around which the earth has been gradually filled in from time to time. Bridge Foreman Anderson and a crew of bridge builders have been repairing the structure during the week, and in the meantime all trains run no faster than fifteen miles an hour, until the repairs are finished.

TOLD TO WATCH FOR A THIEF.

Horse Stolen in Milwaukee Believed to Be About Here.

Chief Acheson received a telephone message from Milwaukee this morning asking him to be on the lookout for a horse and buggy that were stolen at that city yesterday, as it is believed the thief came this way. The horse was described as a bay mare, weighing one thousand pounds, with a white left hind foot and a white star on her forehead. She was hitched to an old top buggy, and was taken by the thief while the owner left her hitched in front of a store.

COLE'S OLD CIRCUS TO COME HERE

A guadily painted car stood near the depots last evening and attracted a good deal of attention. It was advertising car No. 1 of Lemen Brothers' circus, which was formerly Cole's show. The car was on its way from Beloit to Jefferson and they go from there to upper Michigan. The show will probably be seen in Janesville on their return.

L. MOSHER "LIT OUT" AND LEFT HIS WIFE

BOARDED A TRAIN WHILE SHE ATE BREAKFAST.

They Had Trouble Before This But Came to the Hotel Myers Last Night Apparently Contented and Happy—Lived Her For a Time Some Years Ago.

Lee Mosher, a former resident of this city, gave his wife the slip this morning, and while she was quietly finishing her breakfast at the Hotel Myers, he was spinning away on a train.

Some years ago Mr. and Mrs. Mosher lived in Janesville, and a former neighbor said this morning that their house was burned at that time, after which Mosher left rather unceremoniously. Mrs. Mosher traced him, the story goes, to Chicago, and then to Grand Rapids, Michigan. Their differences were finally patched up somehow, and the couple returned to Janesville last evening and registered at the Hotel Myers. Apparently the couple, both of whom were well along in years, were happy, and it looked as if the hatchet had been buried. They came down to breakfast together this morning and there was no evidence of any further trouble. Mr. Mosher finished his breakfast first.

"I'll just step down and pay our bill" he said, "and I'll be right back."

Mrs. Mosher finished her breadfast and began to wonder what had become of her husband as he failed to return. Then she rushed into the office and enquired.

"He left for the depot in time to catch the 7 o'clock train," replied the clerk. Mrs. Mosher was much wrought up.

"Perhaps he will come back if you sit down and wait awhile" was the remark the clerk hazarded.

"Wait for him" said Mrs. Mosher, I'll not wait for him! I've waited for that men before!"

Then she hurried for the depot, but her husband did not materialize. Search of the baggage room developed the fact that his baggage had not yet left.

"There's his trunk" she called nervously, "but where is he?"

She soon learned that he had bought a ticket for Belvidere, so she gave up the search for the present, at least, and returned to the hotel.

SUNDAY'S SERMON BY DR. TALMAGE

SALVATION THE SUBJECT OF LATEST DISCOURSE.

"Seek and Ye Shall Find, Knock and It Shall Be Opened Unto Ye"—"Seek the Lord While He May Be Found"—Isaiah 55 : 6.

ISAIAH stands head and shoulders above the other Old Testament authors in vivid descriptiveness of Christ. Other prophets give an outline of our Saviour's features. Some of them present, as it were, the side face of Christ;others a bust of Christ; but Isaiah gives us the full length portrait of Christ. Other Scripture writers excel in some things. Ezekiel more weird, David more pathetic, Solomon more epigrammatic, Habakkuk more sublime; but when you want to see Christ coming out from the gates of prophecy in all his grandeur and glory, you involuntarily turn to Isaiah. So that if the prophecies in regard to Christ might be called the "Oratorio of the Messiah," the writing of Isaiah is the "Hallelujah Chorus," where all the batons wave and all the trumpets come in. Isaiah was not a man picked up out of insignificanse by inspiration. He was known and honored. Josephus and Philo, and Sirach extolled him in their writings. What Paul was among the apostles, Isaiah was among the prophets.

My text finds him standing on a mountain of inspiration, looking out into the future, beholding Christ advancing and anxious that all men might know him; his voice rings down the ages: "Seek ye the Lord while he may be found." "Oh," says some one, "that was for olden times." No, my hearer. If you have traveled in other lands you have taken a circular letter of credit from some banking house in New York, and in St. Petersburg or Venice, or Rome, or Melbourns, or Calcutta, you presented that letter and got financial help immediately. And I want you to understand that the text, instead of being appropriate for one age, or for one land, is a circular letter for all ages and for all lands, and wherever it is presented for help, the help comes: "Seek ye the Lord while he may be found."

I come today with no hairspun theories of religion, with no nice distinctions, with no elaborate disquisition; but with an urgent call to personal religion. The gospel of Christ is a powerful medicine: it either kills or cures. There are those who say, "I would like to become a Christian. I have been waiting a good while for the right kind of influences to come;" and still you are waiting. You are wiser in worldly things than you are in religious things. If you want to get to Albany, you go to the Grand Central depot, or to the steamboat wharf, and, having got your ticket, you do not sit down on the wharf or sit in the depot; you get aboard the boat or train. And yet there are men who say they are waiting to get to heaven—waiting, waiting, but not with intelligent waiting, or they would get on board the line of Christian influences that would bear them into the kingdom of God.

Now you know very well that to seek a thing is to search for it with earnest endeavor. If you want to see a certain man in this city, and there is a matter of $10,000 connected with your seeing him, and you can not at first find him, you do not give up the search. You look in the directory, but can not find the name; you go in circles where you think, perhaps, he may mingle, and, having found the part of the city where he lives, but perhaps not knowing the street, you go through street after street, and from block to block, and you keep on searching for weeks and months.

You say: "It is a matter of $10,000 whether I see him or not." Oh, that men were as persistent in seeking for Christ! Had you one half that persistence you would long ago have found him who is the joy of the forgiven spirit. We may pay our debts, we may attend church, we may relieve the poor, we may be public benefactors, and yet all our life disobey the text, never seek God, never gain heaven. Oh, that the spirit of God would help me, while I try to show you, in carrying out the idea of my text, first, how to seek the Lord, and in the next place, when to seek him.

I remark, in the first place, you are to seek the Lord through earnest and believing prayer. God is not an autocrat or a despot seated on a throne, with his arms resting on brazen lions, and a sentinel pacing up and down at the foot of the throne. God is a father seated in a bower, waiting for his children to come and climb on his knee, and get his kiss and his benediction. Prayer is the cup with which we go to the "fountain of living water," and dip up refreshment for our thirsty soul. Grace does not come to the heart as we set a cask at the corner of the house to catch the rain in the shower. It is a pulley fastened to the throne of God, which we pull, bringing the blessing.

I do not care so much what posture you take in prayer, nor how large an amount of voice you use. You might get down on your face before God, if you did not pray right inwardly, there would be no response. You might cry at the top of your voice, and unless you had a believing spirit within, your cry would not go further up than the shout of a plow-boy to his oxen. Prayer must be believing, earnest, loving. You are in your house some summer day, and a shower comes up, and a bird, affrighted, darts into the window, and wheels about the room. You seize it. You smooth its ruffled plumage. You feel its fluttering heart. You say, "Poor thing, poor thing!" Now, a prayer goes out of the storm of this world into the window of God's mercy, and he catches it, and he feels its fluttering pulse, and he puts it in his own bosom of affection and safety. Prayer is a warm, ardent, pulsating exercise. It is an electric battery which, touched, thrills to the throne of God! It is the diving-bell in which we go down into the depths of God's mercy and bring up "pearls of great price." There was an instance where prayer made the waves of the Gennesaret solid as stone pavement. Oh, how many wonderful things prayer has accomplished! Have you ever tried it? In the days when the Scotch Covenanters were persecuted, and the enemies were after them, one of the head men among the Covenanters prayed: "Oh, Lord, we be as dead men unless thou shalt help us! Oh, Lord, throw the lap of thy cloak over these poor things!" And instantly a Scotch mist enveloped and hid the persecuted from their persecutors—the promise literally fulfilled: "While they are yet speaking I will hear."

Have you ever tried the power of prayer? God says: "He is loving, and faithful, and patient." Do you believe that? You are told that Christ came to save sinners. Do you believe that? You are told that all you have to do to get the pardon of the gospel is to ask for it. Do you believe that? Then come to him and say: "Oh, Lord! I know thou canst not lie. Thou hast told me to come for pardon, and I could get it. I come, Lord. Keep thy promise, and liberate my captive soul."

Oh, that you might have an altar in the parlor, in the kitchen, in the store, in the barn, for Christ will be willing to come again to the manger to hear prayer. He would come to your place of business, as he confronted Matthew, the tax commissioner. If a measure should come before congress that you thought would ruin the nation, how you would send in petitions and remonstrances! And yet there has been enough sin in your heart to ruin it forever, and you have never remonstrated or petitioned against it. If your physical health failed, and you had the means, you would go and spend the summer in Germany, and the winter in Italy, and you would think it a very cheap outlay if you had to go all round the earth to get back your physical health. Have you made any effort, any expenditure, any exertion for your immortal and spiritual health?

Oh, that you might now begin to seek after God with earnest prayer. Some of you have been working for years and years for the support of your families. Have you given one half day to the working out of your salvation with fear and trembling? You came here with an earnest purpose, I take it, as I have come hither with an earnest purpose, and we meet face to face, and I tell you, first of all, if you want to find the Lord, you must pray, and pray, and pray.

I remark again, you must seek the Lord through Bible study. The Bible is the newest book in the world. Oh, you say, "it was made hundreds of years ago, and the learned men of King James translated it hundreds of years ago." I confute that idea by telling you it is not five minutes old, when God, by his blessed spirit, retranslates it into the heart. If you will, in the seeking of the way of life through scripture study, implore God's light to fall upon the page, you will find that these promises are not one second old, and that they drop straight from the throne of God into your heart. * * *

Oh, my friends! if you merely want to study the laws of language, do not go to the Bible. It was not made for that. Take "Howe's Elements of Criticism"—it will be better than the Bible for that. If you want to study metaphysics, better than the Bible will be the writings of William Hamilton. But if you want to know how to have sin pardoned, and at last to gain the blessedness of heaven, search the scriptures, "for in them ye have eternal life."

When people are anxious about their souls, there are those who recommend good books. That is all right. But I want to tell you that the Bible is the best book under such circumstances. Baxter wrote "A Call to the Unconverted," but the Bible is the best call to the unconverted. Philip Doddridge wrote "The Rise and Progress of Religion in the Soul," but the Bible is the best rise and progress. John Angell James wrote "Advice to the Anxious Inquirer," but the Bible is the best advice to the anxious inquirer.

Oh, the Bible is the very book you need, anxious and inquiring soul! A dying soldier said to his mate: "Comrade, give me a drop!" The comrade shook up the canteen, and said: "There isn't a drop of water in the canteen." "Oh," said the dying soldier, "that's not what I want; feel in my knapsack for my Bible," and his comrade found the Bible, and read him a few of the gracious promises, and the dying soldier said: "Ah, that's what I want. There isn't anything like the Bible for a dying soldier, is there, my comrade?" Oh, blessed book while we live! Blessed book when we die!

Sin is an awful disease. I hear people say with a toss of the head and with a trivial manner: "Oh, yes, I'm a sinner." Sin is an awful disease. It is leprosy. It is dropsy. It is consumption. It is all moral disorders in one. Now you know there is a crisis in a disease. Perhaps you have had some illustration of it in your family. Sometimes the physician has called, and he has looked at the patient and said: "That case was simple enough; but the crisis has passed. If you had called me yesterday, or this morning, I could have cured the patient. It is too late now; the crisis has passed." Just so it is in the spiritual treatment of the soul—there is a crisis.

There are some here who can remember instances in life when, if they had bought a certain property, they would have become very rich. A few acres that would have cost them almost nothing were offered them. They refused them. After a large village or city sprung up on those acres of ground, and they see what a mistake they made in not buying the property. There was an opportunity of getting it. It never came back again. And so it is in regard to a man's spiritual and eternal fortune. There is a chance; if you let that go, perhaps it never comes back. Certainly, that one never comes back.

A gentleman told me that at the battle of Gettysburg he stood upon a height looking off upon the conflicting armies. He said it was the most exciting moment of his life; now one army seeming to triumph, and now the other. After awhile the host wheeled in such a way that he knew that in five minutes the whole question would be decided. He said the emotion was almost unbearable. There is just such a time to-day with you. The forces of light on one side, the forces of death on the other side, and in a few moments the matter will be settled for eternity.

There is a time which mercy has set for leaving port. If you are on board before that, you will get a passage for heaven. If you are not on board, you miss your passage for heaven. As in law courts, a case is sometimes adjourned from term to term, and from year to year, till the bill of costs eats up the entire estate, so there are men who are adjourning the matter of religion from time to time, and from year to year, until heavenly bliss is the bill of costs the man will have to pay for it.

Why defer this matter, oh, my dear hearer? Have you any idea that sin will wear out? That it will evaporate? That it will relax its grasp? That you may find religion as a man accidentally finds a lost pocketbook? Ah, no! No man ever became a Christian by accident. The embarrassments are all the time increasing. The hosts of darkness are recruiting, and the longer you postpone this matter the deeper the path will become. I ask those men who are before me new whether in the ten or fifteen years they have passed in the postponement of these matters, they have come any nearer God or heaven? I would not be afraid to challenge this whole audience, so far as they may not have found the peace of the gospel, in regard to the matter. Your hearts, you are willing frankly to tell me, are becoming harder and harder, and that if you come to Christ it will be more of an undertaking now than it ever would have been before. The throne of judgment will soon be set; and, if you have anything to do toward your eternal salvation, you had better do it now, for the redemption of your soul is precious, and it ceaseth forever.

Oh, if men could only catch one glimpse of Christ, I know they would love him! Your heart leaps at the sight of a glorious sunrise or sunset. Can you be without emotion as the sun of righteousness behind Calvary, and sets behind Joseph's sepulchre? He is a blessed Savior. Every nation has its type of beauty. There is German beauty, and Swiss beauty, and Italian beauty, and English beauty; but I care not in what land a man first looks at Christ he pronounces him "chief among ten thousand, and the One altogether lovely."

The diamond districts of Brazil are carefully guarded, and a man does not get in there except by a pass from the government; but the love of Christ is a diamond district we may all enter, and pick up treasures for eternity. "Today, if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts."

Take the hint of the text that I have no time to dwell upon—the hint that there is a time when he cannot be found There was a man in this city, 80 years of age, who said to a clergyman who came in: "Do you think that a man 80 years of age can get pardoned?" "Oh, yes," said the clergyman. The old man said: "I can't; when I was 20 years of age—I am now 80 years old—the spirit of God came to my soul, and I felt the importance of attending to these things, but I put it off. I rejected God, and since then I have had no feeling." "Well," said the minister, "wouldn't you like to have me pray with you?" "Yes," replied the old man, "but it will do no good. You can pray with me if you like to." The minister knelt down and prayed, and commended the man's soul to God. It seemed to have no effect upon him. After awhile the last hour of the man's life came, and through his delirium a spark of intelligence seemed to flash, and with his last breath he said: "I shall never be forgiven!" "O, seek the Lord while he may be found."

The recent death of the owner makes the sale of this plant necessary. It consists of a flouring mill, packing-storage house and two elevators. The mill is 60x66 feet, four stories and basement constructed of stone, brick and frame, the frame part being iron-clad. Capacity 300 barrels per day. The storage-packing house is 30x120 feet two stories. The elevators each have a capacity of 30,000 and 50,000 bushels. A branch railway track runs between the mill and packing-storage house. This plant was ALL remodeled and made new in 1894. The business of this plant has paid the owner, up to his death, from $8,000 to $20,000 per year. This plant cost over $80.000 and is the finest one in the northwest. It is run by water power and situated in Janesville, Wis. except the large elevator which is at Lake Preston, S. D. A Study in Construction.

A teacher in one of the lower grades of a city school was endeavoring to impress upon her pupils the fact that a plural subject takes a verb in the plural.

"Remember this," she said; "girls are, boys are; a girl is, a boy is. Now do you understand it?"

Every hand in the room was raised in assent.

"Well, then," continued the teacher, "who can give me a sentence with girls—plural, remember?"

This time only one hand was raised, and that belonged to a pretty little miss. "Please, ma'am," she said, with all the assurance of primitive reasoning, "I can give a sentence. 'Girls, are my hat on straight?'" — Cincinnati Tribune.

A Sufficient Sign.

No doubt when one is reforming from bad habits, he should reform altogether. So, at least, thought an old lady who was opposed to the use of tobacco, when she saw an ex-drunkard, who vaunted his repentance, smoking a pipe.

"I am a brand plucked from the burning," said the reformed man.

"Anybody might know that," said the old lady, "for you're smokin' yet!"

Trouble at the Last Turn.

"There is too much system in this school business," growled Tommy. "Just because I snickered a little the monitor turned me over to the principal and the principal turned me over to paw."

"Was that all?"

"No, paw turned me over his knee." —Indianapolis Journal.

FANCY ROCKERS.

FRANK D. KIMBALL.

Mistress of the Foundry.

By EARL JOSLYN.

[Copyright, 1894, by the Author.]

CHAPTER I.

"Pour off!"

The molder waited a moment by his crucible of glowing, molten metal. Then in a loud deep voice he cried again:

"Pour off!"

Don, the foreman of the foundry, turned with impatience to three young fellows who were sorting metal chips out of a barrel of foundry sweepings, and who were all smoking clay pipes. "Pat, Jack and Mike, when you hear a molder call 'pour off,' you get to him lively," he said shortly.

The foreman's eyes sparkled ominously as he watched the trio hustling over copper ingots and piles of zinc, dodging now and then stacks of flasks. "Shut the window there, Mike. You'll bust your cylinder," he roared.

"Water," called the molder.

"Here, you, Pat, why don't you have the watering pot always full? The flask boards will burn to cinders while you're fetching it. You're a dandy!" The foreman turned away disgusted.

The metal was poured into the small holes prepared for it. Tongues of beautifully colored flame darted from the beds of sand, and the smoke, full of ashy flakes, rose in billows. Bang! There was an explosion louder than usual. The molder and his helper laughed. They always liked to hear a good round report. "That will be a fine cylinder ring," said Don. "Now go help the core boys; they are crowded. And look alive," he added, glancing sharply at the three.

"And what did ye hear at the mission the night, Mike McCoy?" asked Luke Reardon of his benchmate.

"The mission, Luke? Father Gogarty's after askin where the likes of you bees," responded Mike. "'Luke's a hard one,' says Father Gogarty. 'He's traveled many a mile hanging on under a freight car, and he's niver a bit consarned for his sowl that'll go to purgatory some day by way of a header,' says Father Gogarty."

"How much are your wages a week, Donoghue?"

"Come off now," laughed Luke. "Father Gogarty niver said that. But what did ye hear at mission, I ask ye, Mike McCoy?"

"Ah, thin, Luke, the father kept saying, 'Stand up, now.' Be the time I was well up he said, 'Sit down, now.' It bein a new service, Father Gogarty had hard work to kape us movin. He gave us a dressin down at the end. 'You're in your sates aisy and comfortable,' he says, 'when ye should be on your knees. Kape watch on me,' says he, 'and whin I jinnyflict then you jinnyflict.' Them missions is pious work, Luke."

At 10 minutes to 6 the men were washing up. "Going to the union tonight, Timmy?" asked Tom Mahanney.

"'Dade that I am, Tom. We'll spoil Mowry. He won't hire union men to work for him, and we'll see that his pots are doctored. Did ye know that the big casting that he sint to Dinver was brittle as glass? I know the man that made it. 'That'll bust suddint on you, Mowry,' says my friend when he poured it. 'You needn't be so high and mighty with us brotherhood felleys. You'll come down a peg,' says he."

"Hist, hist, Timmy. There's the missis."

A lady dressed in plain black stood in the smoky foundry. She was perhaps 35 years old, but she was still extremely girlish in figure and face. She was speaking with Don. "Good night, Mr. Donoghue," she said when she had finished talking and then stepped lightly along, bowing courteously to the men as she passed them.

"I does hate to have the missis see me when my shirt's all open and I'm as red as a gobbler," said young Dan Doyle.

"Red, are you, Dan?" mocked Luke. "You're the greenest Irishman that ever stood on ten toes."

"Tin, is it, Luke? Dan stands on nine iver since the bottom of Paddy O'Shea's crucible fell out and slopped on Dan's feet," said Dennis Slavin, the oldest man in the foundry.

"The missis is polite to us jacks," said Dick Flanaghan in his shrill, squeaking voice. "That last hot day I was all of a lather and had been dusting my work with charcoal. The wind blew it in my face, and I looked like a striped devil. Don was off to a picnic. Up comes the missis smiling. I wanted to jump under me bench. 'Mr. Flanaghan,' says she, 'and will ye be having them hame balls ready to go on the last express the night?' 'Shure they're poured and cooling there,' says I, 'but you'll have to ask Mike if he'll be after tumbling them.' 'Thank you, Mr. Flanaghan,' says she. Anybody niver called me 'mister' before. She did me proud. She's the lady for ye."

"Ye're long winded, Dick," broke in Don. "Don't ye see I'm waiting to lock the door? Dump them grates, Pat. Must I tell ye ivery night to put the fires out?"

The men hurried out on the street and went clumsily homeward. Mrs. Sterns, the "missis," had gone toward High street to her house. Half an hour after her entrance she was seated at her dainty dinner table. She had changed her foundry dress for a delicate tea gown. A letter bearing an English postmark had been placed by her plate. An immense mastiff lay stretched out on a rug by her chair. He was always near his mistress when she was at home. Between the courses she read the letter.

"I am gone much longer, Kate, dear," her husband wrote, "than I expected to be. Some litigation has arisen about the patent and will keep me here several months longer. But after we win the case, as we shall, I can quickly negotiate the sale and return. The patent is more valuable than I thought and will greatly increase our wealth. Can you hold the men together? There are signs of renewed labor troubles."

Mrs. Sterns laid down the letter and mused. It was a hard task set her. The molders and polishers, from big Luke to little Joe, her office boy, were devoted to her. They would not trouble "the missis." But Parker, the bookkeeper, was hostile to her and resented her appointment as treasurer in her husband's absence. Parker was an untried man, the trusty old bookkeeper having died a year before Mr. Sterns' departure to England. Preston, too, the manager, was against her and friendly to Parker. Moreover, Parker was nephew to the wife of the president of the corporation, Edward Starkey. Starkey was not pleased with Sterns' lack of confidence in his relative as shown by the latter's choice of assistant treasurer. Sterns had signed Starkey's notes. To what extent Mrs. Sterns did not know. That way might lie ruin. She would do her best, she replied to her husband's letter, but she must know for what amount he was on Starkey's paper. "I am confident that Parker is dishonest," she continued, "though I cannot detect any fraud. But I am continually on the alert and shall unearth it if any exists."

The next morning at 9 Mrs. Sterns was at her desk. She opened the morning mail and passed the orders to Parker for entry, with the letters that must be answered. She receipted the bills that had been paid and placed the checks in the bankbook. Looking up just then, she saw Moore, the foreman of the polishing room, standing by her and waiting.

"I can't get them air chambers off today, Mrs. Sterns," he said. "Jim's out. He's sick with the copper dust. It busted his lungs, and they're bleeding. He'll be all right tomorrow. Nobody can do them so good as Jim."

"I'm sorry for Jim," answered Mrs. Sterns; "but, Moore, we must send the large air chamber today. It goes into a great ocean steamer that sails from New York Friday, and it will not get there a moment too soon."

"I'm doing that one," Moore said.

"Don't hurt your lungs, Mike."

"No, I look out for mesilf. I wears wet sponges," he said as he left the office.

The other foremen came for orders. They would not take them from Parker if they could avoid it nor report to him. Parker was unpopular with the men, chiefly on account of his curt way of speaking to them.

So the day went. Soon after 1 o'clock Parker returned from the bank with the money to pay off the men. Mrs. Sterns had previously signed a check, which he had cashed. He threw on the table before him the heavy bag of silver and bills, which he proceeded to count and place in the pay envelopes. While he was doing this Mrs. Sterns noticed a peculiar flutter of the eyelids. It occurred to her that she had been carefully excluded from the work of the pay roll. She turned her chair round to her desk and inwardly debated what course to pursue in order to get this business into her own hands in a way that would arouse no suspicion on Parker's part. She knew that she must be wary.

After Parker had finished paying off the men he was obliged to go out of the city on business for the company. Being hurried to catch the train, he inadvertently left the pay roll book out of his desk, which he carefully locked before leaving.

Shortly after he had gone Don came in to ask her to have some files ordered. When she had made a memorandum of the sizes and kinds, she inquired:

"How much are your wages a week, Donoghue?"

"Eighteen dollars, ma'am," he answered.

"Can you give me a list of all the men's wages per day, Don?"

"Yes, ma'am."

"Will you keep dark, Donoghue?"

"Yes, ma'am, glad to."

"I depend on you, Donoghue," said Mrs. Sterns, looking keenly at the foreman.

"You're safe, ma'am," replied the foreman and respectfully touched his paper cap.

Mrs. Sterns put the pay roll book into her black satin handbag, and as she was leaving the foundry Don placed in her hand the daily wage list. Then she went homeward.

Kaiser was on the piano looking serious. It was the swill gatherers' day, and he and the swill gatherers were at feud. Kaiser objected on principle to any one that removed so much as a feather from the yard. He brightened up as he saw his mistress approaching and marched majestically down the walk to greet her.

"Good fellow, Kaiser," she said lightly as the dog sprang joyfully up to her face. "Have you been kind to the pussies today?"

After dinner Mrs. Sterns compared the wage lists. Don reported himself as receiving $3 per day. Parker's record showed $3.75. According to Don's list, every employee received from 75 down to 20 cents a day less than Parker's book showed. On computation Mrs. Sterns found that Parker professed to pay out $200 weekly more than Don's list called for. She was astonished and frightened at her discovery. Her heart beat rapidly. That night she telegraphed the facts of the case to her husband and asked instructions. Reply came: "Use your judgment for present. Have written."

The next morning Parker was visibly disturbed and remarked:

"I cannot find my pay roll book, Mrs. Sterns."

"Where did you leave it, Parker?"

"In my desk, I thought. I went away in such a hurry that I may have left it outside."

"Can you remember, Parker?" continued Mrs. Sterns.

"No, I cannot," was the answer. "If I had entered on the ledger the amount of the pay roll, I would not mind the loss."

"How much have you in the safe? Cannot you tell by that, Parker?" Mrs. Sterns was looking directly at Parker's face as she put the last question.

"Yes, very nearly."

"How much have you?" pursued Mrs. Sterns.

"Fifty dollars," said Parker after a pause.

"Thirty-six of that came in this morning. Did you have $14 on hand?"

"Yes," replied Parker, "I did."

Mrs. Sterns said no more. What had he done with the $200 overplus? She had found that for six weeks he had falsified the pay roll.

Parker was very uneasy about the missing book. Perhaps he suspected what had become of it. At all events on the following pay day he made out a correct list of wages. When all was ready, Mrs. Sterns said:

"I will pay the men, Parker. I like to know them by name, and if I pay them I shall remember them."

Parker hesitated, but delivered up the envelopes with the best grace that he could muster.

When her husband's letter came Mrs. Sterns learned that he had signed Starkey's notes for $25,000, $15,000 of which was due in 30 days. "I have instructed my lawyer," the letter continued, "to secure me when the first note falls due and to manage as best he can on the second. Keep Parker with you until the notes are paid. Then arrest him. My lawyer understands my wishes and will act when the time comes for action."

NOW, THE TIME TO MAKE MONEY.

Last month I cleared, after paying all expenses, $235.38; the month before $186.56 and have at the same time attended to my regular business. I believe anyone, anywhere, can do as well, as I have not a particularly good location and not much experience. When you have an article that every family wants, it is very easy selling it. It seems strange that a good, cheap dish washer was never before placed on the market. With the Perfection, which sells for $5 you can wash and dry the dishes for a family in two minutes, without putting the hands in water. As soon as people see the washer work, they want one, and that is why so much money can be made so quickly. For full particulars address The Perfection Mfg. Co. Station O, Englewood, Ill. I feel convinced that any lady or gentleman, in any location can make $5 to $10 a day, as every family will very soon have a dish washer. Try it and publish your experience for the benefit of others. KEEPING IN TOUCH

Keeping in touch with current mercantile events is one of the primary objects of the progressive merchant. It creates price-standards and esteblishes value precedents in advance of other stores. The presentation of the

is only a reminder that you need the best to keep your food and ice both. Costs no more than the inferior kinds offered in Janesville.
